Roulette

In roulette, players place bets on numbers, colors (red or black), even or odd, or number ranges. The dealer spins the wheel with numbered slots and releases a ball, which lands in one of them. If the ball lands on a number or category the player bet on, they win according to the payout odds.